Professional Development Series

Please join us for the Pacific McGeorge Alumni Association's 2013-14 Professional Development Series. This year's program focuses on two key areas: Career Satisfaction and Business Development and Self-Marketing.

In fall, Bruce Timm, a '98 alum and current President of the Sacramento County Bar Association, will begin the Series with a presentation about networking, focusing on the value of making connections and maintaining them throughout your career. In further collaboration with the Sacramento County Bar Association, our second fall event will provide new graduates and students the opportunity to network with practicing attorneys, having conversations about how to launch your career and remain successful.

In the spring we will hold a two-part series with certified professional coach, Tania Fowler. She will start with a discussion of temperaments and communications styles and will help you define yourself as an individual. In the second half of the series, she will show you how to use your temperament and communication style to enhance your success in business development and self-marketing, and Anthony Vignolo '99, will provide tips from the point of view of a practicing attorney.

Please also join us at the in-depth CLE program – Deposition Boot Camp! See the details on the reverse.
